Workers' Comp Continuing Education Course – Maintain Your Certification

Pursuant to 19 Del.C. §2322D(a)(2), all Workers Compensation certified health care clinicians must complete the continuing education course every two years, or they are no longer certified in the Delaware Workers' Compensation Health Care Payment System (HCPS). All those who were originally certified in 2009 or 2011 must complete the course this year. The Office of Worker's Compensation (OWC) provides a certified health care provider list on their website at dia.delawareworks.com/workers-comp/hcps/provider-certification.php, which shows all certified clinicians and the date they are due to complete the education course. If you determine that your certification has lapsed, complete the continuing education course, located on the OWC web site at dowc.ingenix.com/CourseLogin.asp, complete another application for certification at dowc.ingenix.com/info.asp?page=forms and submit along with current proof of malpractice insurance.
